PLEASE NOTE: The above fee allows users to use downloaded scores for personal study, auditions, and performance within an academic setting only. Any public performance, recording, or other method of dissemination will require creators’ permission and the negotiation of royalties directly with the rights holders - in most cases, the creators themselves, or their agents on their behalf.

Fulfilment of full production or orchestral score requests will happen by negotiation only, and that negotiation will involve the creators’ permission and the settlement of royalties.
